Christmas Fix - It

My second graders look forward to being detectives to find all the mistakes in these sentences. Sometimes I make it a center for students to work during Daily 5 Word Work. Other times, I use the activity with the whole class at once. It helps to go over the "Check It!" chart with students before they begin looking for errors. Model for them how to look at a sentence and go step-by-step to check for mistakes.

I have found it helpful for students to highlight the mistakes as they find them, then write the sentence correctly on the recording sheet. If you choose to do it this way, you will need to copy sentence sheets for all your students rather than cut apart the strips as you would in a center.
